

SQL Server Create Table

 javatpoint.com/sql-server-create-table

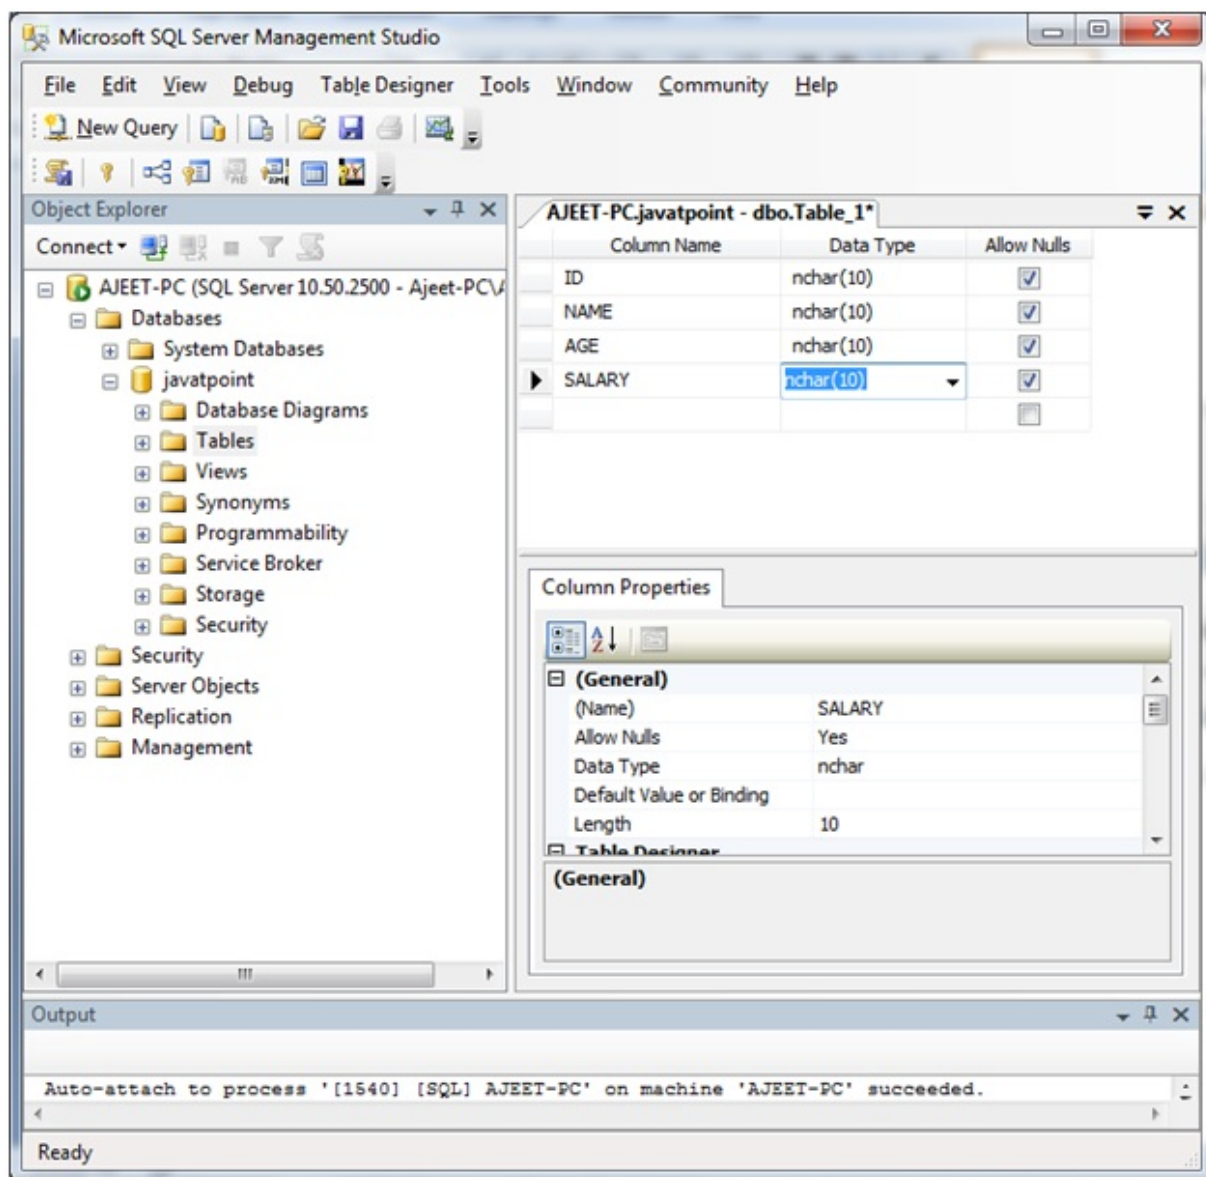

Go to your created database and expand. You will see its "Tables" encircled in red as following:

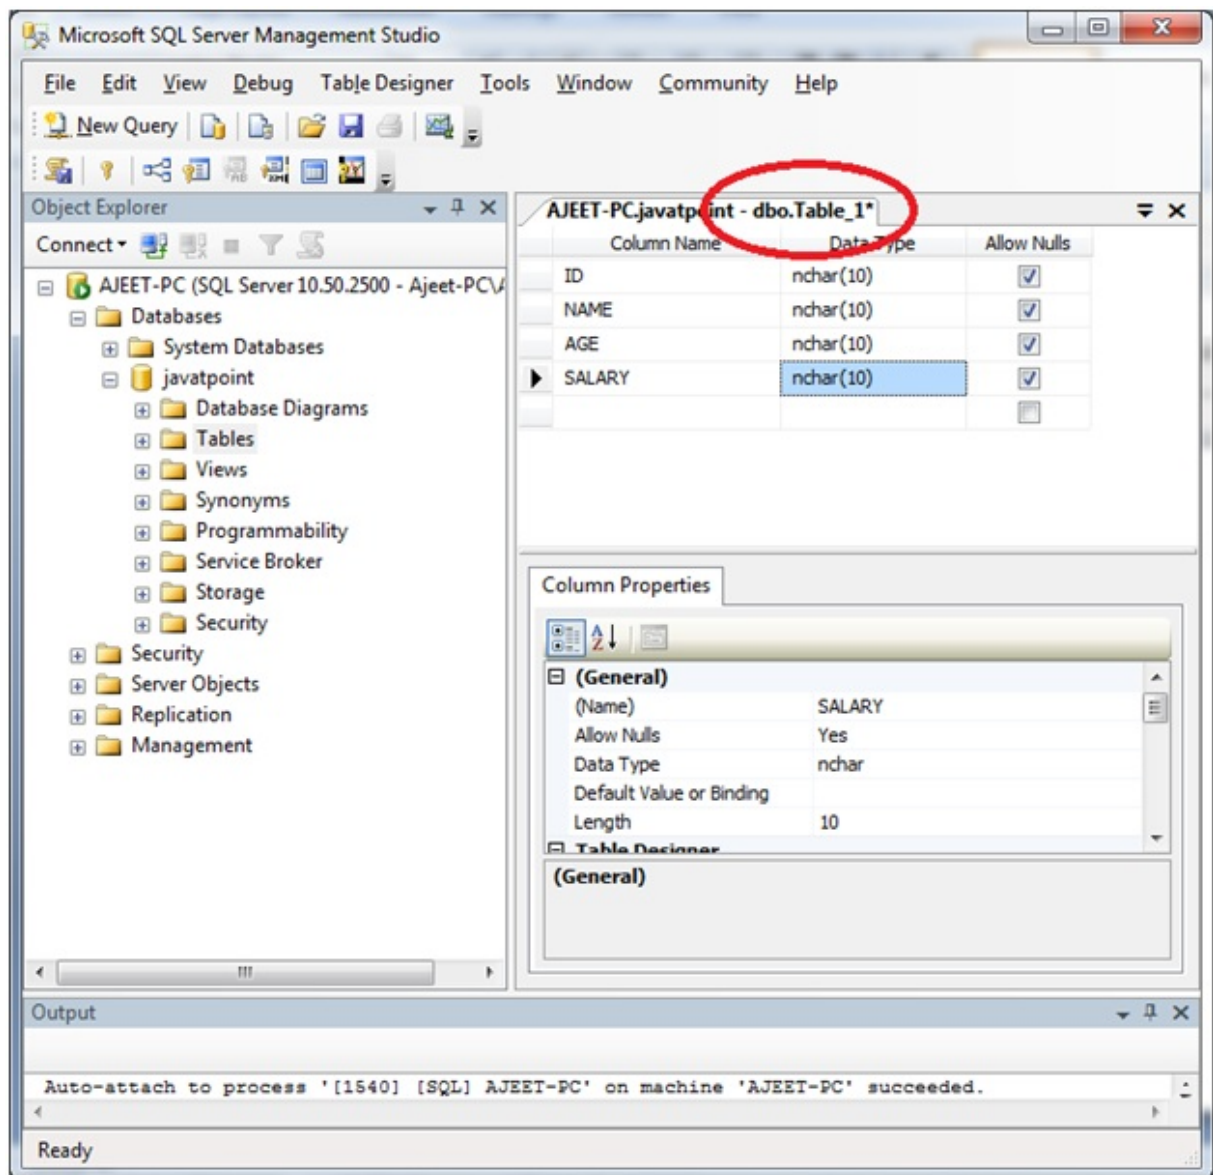

Right click on "Tables" and you will see New Table. Click on New Table and you will see the following page:

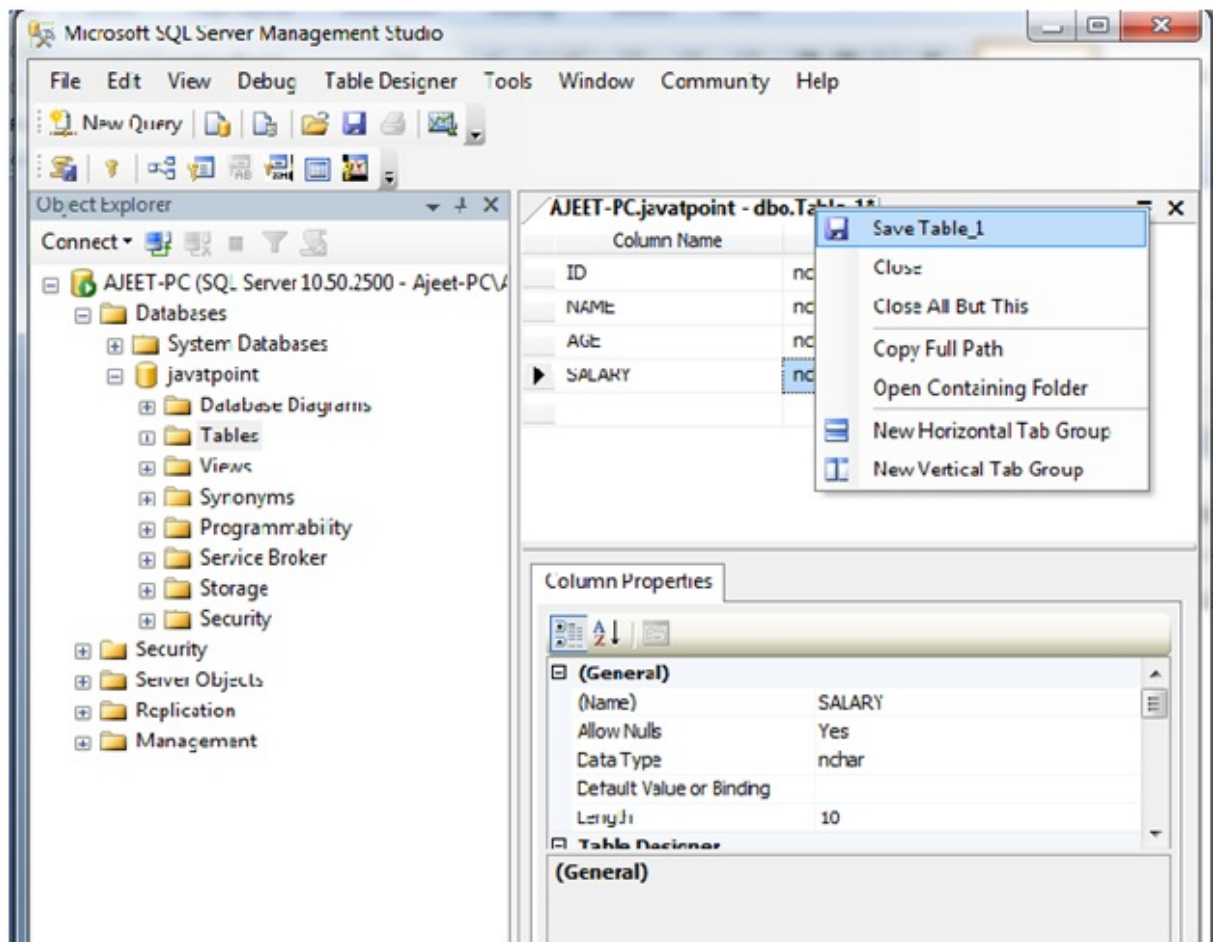

You can add Column Name and Datatype as many as you want. Every time you fill one entry, another entry will be automatically created.

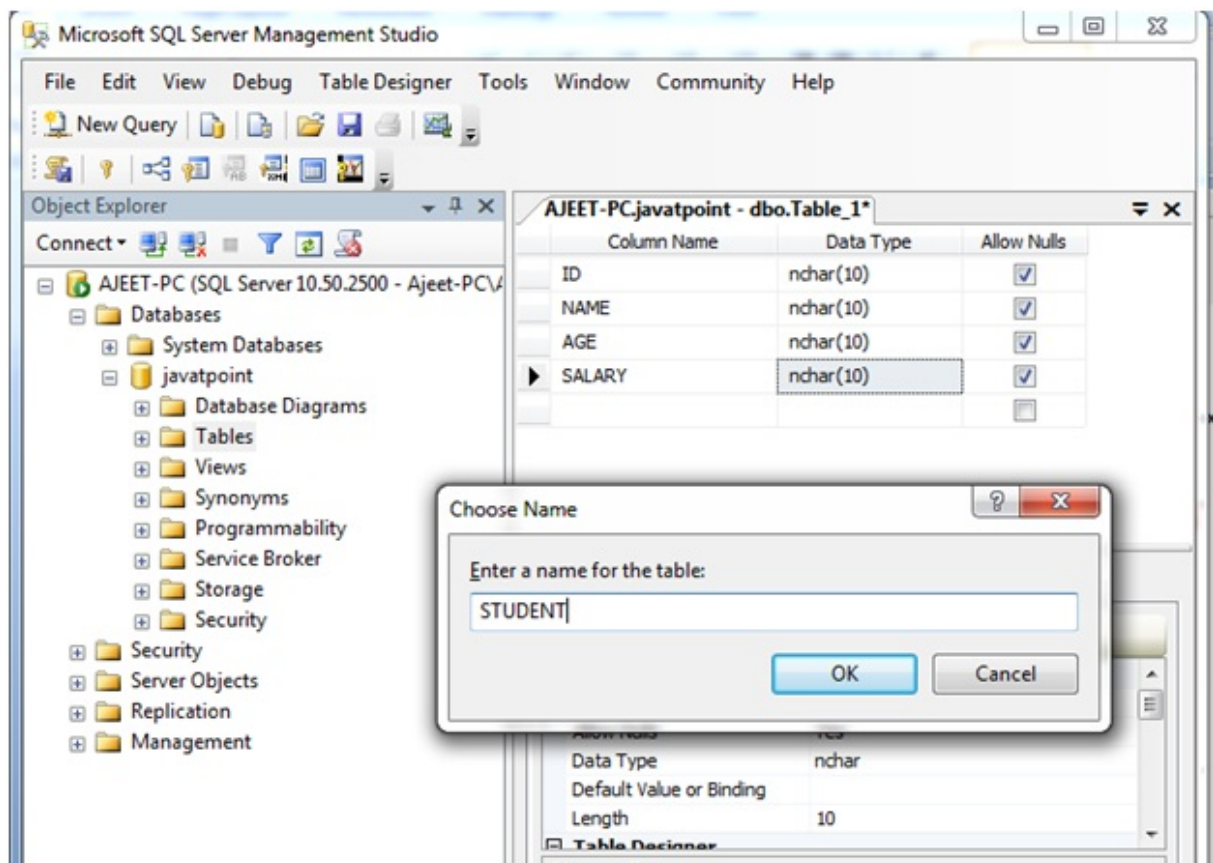

How to save the table:

Go to the encircled area and right click there, you will see like following image:

Now click on the "Save Table" and save the table by any name. For example: Let's save the table by "STUDENT" name.

Now a table "STUDENT" is created.

See the created table:

